Vallabhbhai Patel on his death anniversary
Date: December 15, 2023

Green Heaven Institute of Management & Research, paid humble tribute to the great leader Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel on his 71st death anniversary.

Vallabhbhai Jhaverbhai Patel commonly known as Sardar Patel, played an important role in India's freedom movement and persuaded princely states to join newly independent India. For Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel's contribution to unite India, he has earned the title "Iron Man of India". He was the first deputy Prime Minister of India. He was a lawyer. The government of India declared his birthday October 30th as Rashtriya Ekta Diwas (National Unity Day).

It was due to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel's protest in Gujrat, against increased taxes for famine and flood-hit farmers in 1928 that he was conferred with the title of 'Sardar.' In 1942, despite struggling with poor health, Patel played a prominent role in galvanising the public in the Quit India Movement. Patel served as Independent India's first home minister. He is called a self-made man in the truest sense of the word. His integration and ideologies laid the groundwork for unity. He received the Bharat Ratna Award in 1991. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel died on December 15, 1950.

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel will always be remembered for his monumental service, his administrative skills and the untiring efforts to unite our nation. He was an abundant source of inspiration for the nation's youth, not only in the Freedom movement but also today. Nation will forever be grateful to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel for his exemplary contribution to unite India.
